

“At LAST Europe has a festival to rival that of Sundance”

ÉCU FILM FESTIVAL

PROFILE

Founded by Scott Hillier, Academy Award winner, the European Independent Film Festival 2009 (ÉCU 2009) continues its commitment of being at the centre of discovery, promotion and projection of the very best independent filmmaking talent from around the world.

ÉCU 2009 will showcase filmmakers whose films demonstrate quality, innovation and independence in both form and content. There are eleven categories of films in this highly esteemed competitive festival.

ÉCU annually features 1000 submitted films from 45 countries. Held in the Bibliothèque Nationale de Francois Mitterrand in Paris. However, dependent on the commercial partner the plan is to host the event in a different EU city annually.

NOKIA

An agreement has been made with Nokia to preload 30 minutes of ÉCU branded content on up to 5 million state of the art N96 handsets to be distributed internationally
